General merrymaking marked the second day of the annual outing of the United Commercial Travelers of the jurisdiction of Idaho, Utah and Montana, more than 3000 "Knights of the Grip" spending Friday afternoon and evening at Salt Lake, where special arrangements had been made for their reception. A perfect carnival of a sort of impromptu programme and ideal weather conditions combined to make the day a success in the highest sense. True, one or two features which had been hoped for were abandoned owing to unsatisfactory arrangements, but the travelers were a unit in expressing a hearty gratification upon the success of all events. The lake during the afternoon was inviting and thousands took advantage of the opportunity to dip in the dense salt waters. At night, dancing was the popular form of recreation and the immense pavilion of the resort was taxed to its capacity.

The two steamers at the beach were fully decorated with the tri-colors of the U. C. T. and both of the vessels were headed to the beach by a band of music. The day was planned by the travelers to hold a prearranged parade in the evening in which all of the members of the association would take part. The parade, however, on account of the darkness, was abandoned. The day was a success, however, and the travelers were a unit in expressing a hearty gratification upon the success of all events.

JAMES S. SHERMAN FOR SECOND PLACE

New York Congressman Has Easy Victory on the First Ballot Taken.

COMPLIMENTARY VOTES FOR GUILD, MURPHY, SHERDON

Interest Now Centers in Committee's Choice of Man to Manage the Campaign.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Taft and Sherman. This is the ticket of the Republican party flung to the breeze today as the Republican national convention concluded with the nomination of James S. Sherman of New York for Vice-President amid a final roar of tumultuous demonstration. Again the vast assembly was swept with wave on wave of wild, exultant clamor, as the multitude, realizing that at last the work was done and the record made upon which the Republican party goes before the country, united in one last mighty outburst of enthusiastic tribute to the men who will bear forward the standard in the struggle now at hand.

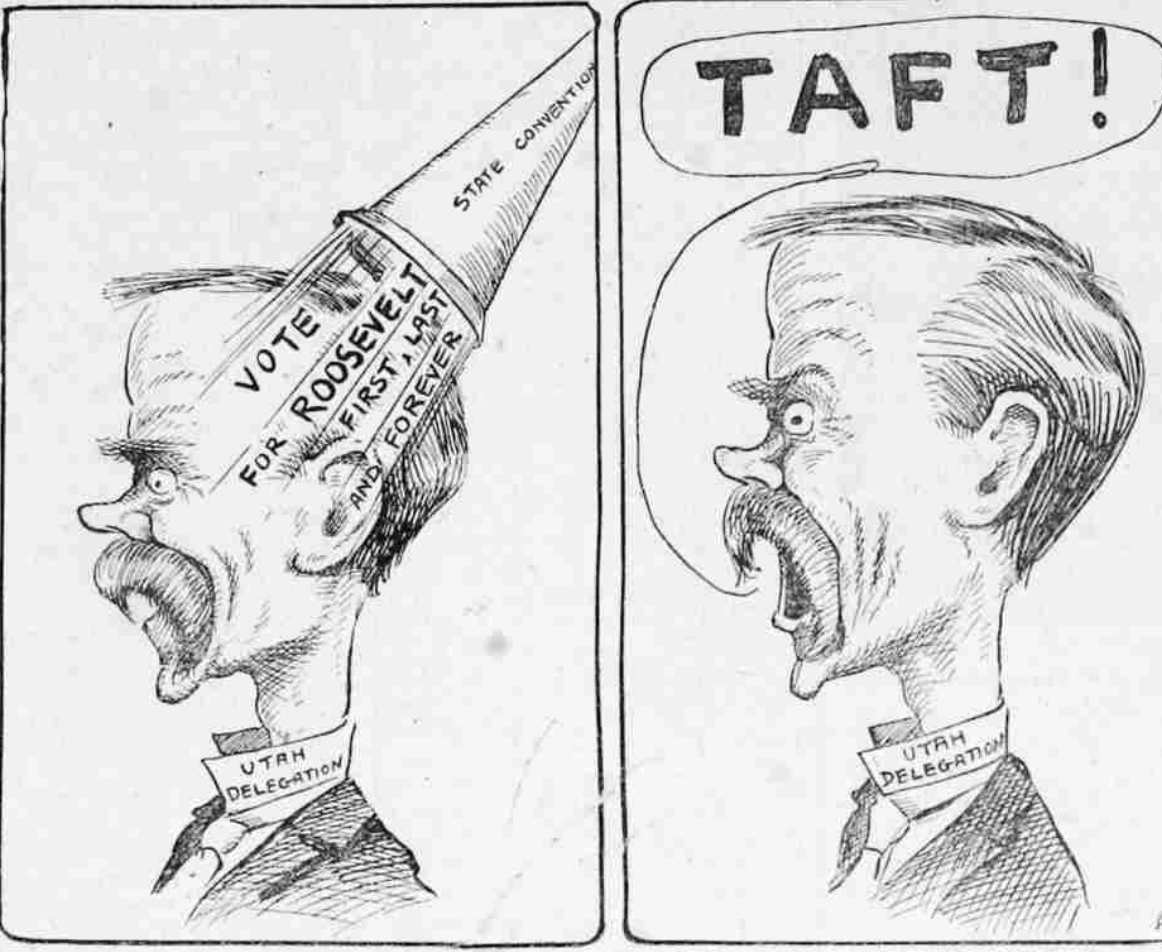

Much Interest Manifest.
Another inspiring picture was presented today as the convention named its candidate for Vice-President. The enormous throngs had waited through an hour of oratory, sweltering in the heat-laden atmosphere, packed as before into solid masses of humanity, with only here and there a few vacant spots in the broad arena below the bright-lined lines of the cheering galleries and over all the air a sense of "Old Glory." From the outset it was distinctly a Sherman crowd, with galleries already trained into choruses of Sherman songs and an invading host of Sherman marchers starting the eddies ringing with a huge portrait of the New York candidate. Among the early arrivals on the floor was Speaker Cannon, who yesterday was a candidate for President, but today here and a pillar of strength in the Sherman movement. The widespread affection of the old war horse of the party was also shown by the fact that he was the first to grasp the hand of the man who had just been elected.

Soon Down to Business.
The preliminaries were brief and at 10:30 the nominating speeches for Vice-President began, with a limit of ten minutes to each speaker. On the call of the States, Sherman was elected for New York, and ex-Governor Timothy L. Woodruff mounted the platform for a glowing speech placing in nomination Sherman as New York's choice for the Vice-Presidency. Now came a surprise, as the venerable Cannon, with his Lincoln-like visage and shaggy beard, emerged from the Illinois delegation, and, standing to the right of Sherman, declared his unanimous consent to second the nomination of Sherman. Such a picture of sturdy, homely, plain American citizenship as Cannon appeared as he announced before the throng which rose to do him homage has seldom been seen before a national convention. His face was beamed with sweat, his collar had melted to a rag which hung limp about his neck. His coat was open, exposing a crumpled shirt, and the sleeves of his black alpaca coat curled up about his dangling cuffs to his elbows. His eyes were sparkling, and his ringing words for his league and friend—James S. Sherman of New York.

Nothing but Sherman.
From the outbursts of enthusiasm which greeted every mention of Sherman's name it was plain that the mind of the convention had been made up and that the decision was only to be recorded. But for a moment there was a halt in the Sherman movement, as Senator Lodge, leaving the presiding officer's chair, advanced to nominate Governor Guild of Massachusetts for Vice-Presidency. The Senator's voice was strained with the exertion of recent days, but he spoke eloquently and forcibly for the Massachusetts candidate. Michigan, through Chase Osborne, added his voice for Guild and New Jersey brought forward her favorite son in a speech by Thomas M. McCarter. The steady advance of the Sherman movement now began again as State after State fell into line. North Carolina, in a ringing speech from the floor by Harry Skinner; Oklahoma by Dennis T. Flynn; Pennsylvania by Congressman Myron G. Orendorff; Tennessee by H. Clay Evans; Virginia by C. B. Slemmons.

Vote Nearly Unanimous.
Now began the vote, taken amid confusion at first, which increased as the totals climbed upward to the nominating point. The result was never in doubt as the totals of States were heaped one upon another. There were scattering votes, but the great body of delegates swelled the total of Sherman until it touched 516. With keen appreciation of the effect of climax, Chairman Lodge announced the result, reserving Sherman's huge total until the last.

Work Soon Completed.
After this the floodgates of wild enthusiasm were let loose as floor and galleries joined in a pandemonium of demonstration for the nominee. The nominations completed, final details were now quickly perfected—committees from the various States to wait upon the candidates for President and Vice-President and formally notify them of the action of the convention in nominating them.

CHAIRMANSHIP IS UP TO MR. TAFT

Representatives of Republican National Committee Will Confer With Candidate.

CONTEST ON BETWEEN HITCHCOCK AND VORYS

Whole Matter Will Rest in the Hands of Man Who Heads the Ticket.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Eight members of the Republican committee left Chicago tonight for Cincinnati to confer with Secretary Taft concerning the selection of a National chairman to manage the Republican campaign. The subcommittee was appointed at the suggestion of Secretary Taft, who is said to be somewhat embarrassed by appeals from his friends in Ohio for the appointment of Arthur Vorys or of Myron T. Herrick of that State, and by the demand made in a petition by a majority of the members of the National committee for the appointment of Frank H. Hitchcock. The latter, because of his success in the Taft campaign for delegates, is being strongly pushed by his friends, while those who are personally attached to Mr. Vorys have announced that they intend to make efforts in his behalf.

Sherman Goes Along.
Congressman James S. Sherman of New York, who was today nominated for the Vice-Presidency, accompanied the subcommittee to Cincinnati. The men who will confer with Secretary Taft in regard to the chairmanship are Powell Clayton of Arkansas, Myron T. Herrick of Ohio, Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, Charles Nagle of Missouri, E. E. Hart of Iowa, Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, E. C. Duncan of North Carolina and Frank O. Lowden of Illinois.

The subcommittee was selected when the new National committee was organized immediately after the adjournment of the convention. Friends of Hitchcock insist that more than half of the eight members will vote to elect him chairman, while the advocates of Vorys say that five members favor the election of the latter, or of some man other than Hitchcock. It is considered, however, that the chairmanship depends absolutely upon the wishes of Mr. Taft, who has not publicly expressed any preference. Nevertheless, as has indicated that the question is one of practical politics and that no selection will be made for sentimental reasons.

Keen interest in the selection of a political manager for Secretary Taft is taken by Charles P. Taft of Ohio and Henry W. Taft of New York, brothers of the Republican nominee. In view of the fact that Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Vorys both have strong following, an effort was made today by Charles P. Taft to have both withdrawn from the race. The suggestion that this course be taken when made by Mr. Hitchcock, caused him to state that he had at no time been a candidate for the chairmanship, and that he would not embarrass the Secretary by asking for the place. Mr. Vorys, however, made no such statement, but his interests entirely with his friends.

Committee's Powers.
That the subcommittee is empowered to select a chairman and a treasurer has been asserted by Myron T. Herrick, after the adjournment of the subcommittee. All of the members of the committee, however, do not understand the authority given in the same manner as Mr. Herrick. It is believed that the subcommittee has the authority to elect in the event that Secretary Taft declares whom he favors. Any choice the Secretary may express will be accepted. That he will make no such declaration for chairman and treasurer is not doubted, but it is likely that a meeting of the full committee will be called to fill these positions, in the event that Mr. Taft does not express a preference.

The secretaryship and the position of sergeant-at-arms were settled by the election of Elmer Dover of Ohio and William F. Stone of Maryland to succeed themselves as secretary and sergeant-at-arms, respectively. General Powell Clayton of Arkansas was chosen to act as chairman until a permanent official is named.

The motion to create the subcommittee was made by Myron T. Herrick of Ohio, and included the names of the committee as appointed with the exception that Mr. Ward of New York was in the place of Mr. Hart of Iowa.

One Change Made.
The motion carried in the original form, but later Mr. Ward was compelled to return at once to New York, and Mr. Hart's name was substituted. An effort was made by Senator Scott of West Virginia to have the committee enlarged to eleven members, but it was defeated. It was decided that the committee should start for Cincinnati late tonight and take conference with Mr. Taft. It will be held tomorrow morning, the secretary having left Washington today.
